Officials Meet To Form Program For Texas Conservation

(San Antonio Light).

Meeting at the St. Anthony Monday morning, officials of the Texas Conservation Association mapped out the details of their campaign which were not covered in the conference at Waco in August. Leonard Tillotson, who was elected president of the association at Waco, presided over the meeting which was attended by Representative Lee J. Rountree of Bryan, Senator T. J. Holbrook of Galveston, Porter Whaley, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce; A. D. Jackson, secretary of the Brazos River Reclamation Association; W. D. Wilson, president of the Colorado River Improvement Association; J. W. Gaines of San Antonio and Homer D. Wade, secretary of the association.

It is the purpose of this meeting, Mr. Tillotson said, to clear up the details of the organization which were not covered at the meeting held at Waco. First, it is necessary to arrange the state into districts in order to carry on the proper campaign, and then comes the need of building a platform to work on. Before going to the state senate with this matter it is the intention of the association to have their plans worked out in detail.

The movement, Mr. Rountree said, is state-wide and is the outgrowth of such organizations as to Brazos River Reclamation Association, the Colorado River Flood Prevention Association and numerous other organizations which have sprung up in the region around the rivers of the state. In Mr. Rountree's opinion it is the greatest piece of progressive legislation that has ever been brought before the people of the state, and it is the opinion of all of the men who are taking active part in the movement that it will meet with the wholehearted support of every Texan.

The object of the association is to secure scientific engineering information and legislation which will make possible the solving of the problem of reclaiming arid waste of Texas and preventing the damage by flood of the rich agricultural regions, in the lower part of the state. It is stated that floods and the surplus water supply today constitute one of the greatest natural resources of the state. To take advantage of these is the end looked for by the association. As the largest part of Texas is composed of streams' watersheds it would be possible to conserve and utilize such waters at a comparatively small cost. Official measurements of flood and surplus surface waters show that there is an annual waste of three million acre feet of water. This, members of the association say, is an economic loss which seriously affects the entire state when it is considered that there are millions of acres of waste land in the upper reaches of the streams' watersheds that would become the most fertile in the state if it is these floods, uncontrolled, bring devastation to the rich lands in the lower reaches of the watersheds.

At the Wednesday noon Bryan Rotary luncheon Prof. Gabe Cazell displayed several heads of feterita to show that the English sparrow was a menace to growing crops. He said that war is made on the boll weevil, the mosquito, the rat and other pests but nothing has been said about the English sparrow. One head of feterita was in perfect condition, the other was partially destroyed and the third totally stripped. Rotarian Wilson stated that the sparrow destroyed totally the last crop of maize he planted. Upon motion of Rotarian W. H. Cole the suggestions made by Prof. Cazell were adopted and the Bryan Rotary Club started a war for the extermination of the English sparrow in Brazos county.

END RAILWAY SHOPMENS STRIKE NOW ANNOUNCED

Railways Will Deal With the Question Separately and Men Anxious To Go To Work Again—Few Railroads State They Are Not Further Interested In Strike Negotiations.

(By Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—Leaders of Federated Railway Shop Crafts who today began negotiations of separate settlements of the strike which began on July 1 in accordance with an agreement adopted by the Union General Policy Committee announced several railroads had telegraphed union headquarters indicating their willingness to start negotiations. The leaders said these were in addition to about fifty roads which had previously agreed on separate settlements with the strikers. The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy and the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroads are not involved in the plan of settlement of the shopmen's strike which the secretary of labor at Washington said he had learned had been virtually effected, according to officials of those roads. The Chicago and Rock Island railway also is not included in the plan, it was said at the office of President J. E. Gorman. R. A. Perkins, vice president of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway, Wednesday authorized the statement that that road was affected by the plan of settlement of the shopmen's strike which Secretary Davis announced at Washington he had learned was assured. The settlement plan provides for the return to work of strikers is their former positions at a rate of pay prescribed by Railroad Labor Board and any disputes or controversies incident to settlement will be referred to a commission of twelve members. Six will be selected by railroads in agreements and six by Shop Crafts. President B. M. Jewell, head of the shopmen would not announce the roads agreeing to this settlement.

Texas Legislature Composed Nearly All New Members

(By Associated Press).

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 14.—Communications have been sent to the approximately ninety new members of the House of Representatives of the Texas legislature by O. P. Basford, reading clerk, for complete information on their residence and addresses. Basford expects to have the House roll completed immediately following the general election in November. He also is making preparations for using the new automatic electric voting recorder which has recently been installed in the House of Representatives. Approximately sixty of the 150 members of the House were renominated at the Democratic primary elections, reports received here show. This is the largest number of new members ever elected to the legislature at one session. In point of service three of the members ranking highest are Capt. W. A. Fields, of Hill county who served in the 25th legislature and after twenty-five years returns to the House. Lee Satterwhite of Carson was elected to the legislature from Freestone county in 1897 and after sixteen years came back to the House from Carson county in the Panhandle. Lee J. Rountree served in the House as chief clerk of the 25th, 26th and 27th Houses from 1896 to 1902 and comes as a member from Brazos and Grimes counties for a second term. Representative Rountree was the original proposer of the automatic electric voting machine now installed and was a member of the committee that installed the machine, the first in the south. The members of the committee were: C. E. Dinkle, of Hunt; John T. Smith, of Travis; H. E. Faubian of Burnett; C. D. Teer, of Williamson and Lee J. Rountree of Brazos. All of these members have been returned to the House without opposition. The coming legislature is the largest in membership in the history of Texas and numbers 150 the full limit under the 1876 constitution.

APPLES NOW—POTATOES

Prof. L. L. Chappelle has just returned to Bryan from Bentonville, Ark., and other points in the fruit belt. He says that the farmers offered to sell him their immense apple crops for 50c per bushel. He was offered peaches for 25c per bushel and they were rotting in the fields. A bushel of peaches recently sold in Oklahoma for $1 and then sold two days later in Dallas for 40c per dozen, or $17.80 per bushel. These peaches then were served in Dallas cafes at 40c each with a 15c tip—which is overhead. That makes them bring $80 with $30 in tips. We declare solemnly that the farmer should have some of this overhead, or he will have to go out of business. We are not ready to give you the remedy and are not "hollering," as you term it. You remind us of the fellow who drank bootleg whiskey at $60 per gallon and then wanted his salary raised. He said he got thirsty on the trip and had to tip the people along the road 25c for water. He said he must have more wages, or strike. You want everybody to quit eating peaches and cabbage, and perhaps it will come to that if the overhead is so heavy that they all rot in the fields. The physical facts are against you, and your astute argument by a high degree sounds fine on paper. It is "sounding brass and tinkling cymbal," and you know it, and we know you know it, and we know that you know we know you know it.—Bryan Daily Eagle.

And so it's apples now. A while ago it was cabbage. And all the time it's overhead. And when S. P. rises mildly during a lull in the vociferation and asks, "Well, what are you going to do about it?" up jumps Lee Rountree again and chants, "Joe, we're not going to give you the remedy." Well, then, if you aren't going to give the remedy to the public notwithstanding all this misery and ululation you have been emitting because of the sad state of the public, what are you going to sell it for? If you have a remedy and won't give it away and have a lick of trading blood in your skin crack down and name a price, and maybe S. P. can trade you a fine installment plan encyclopedia that he unwittingly bought during a description campaign of a young man who was anxious to make his college tuition. Surely you have a remedy, Lee, or else you are in a position of a doctor who comes in and tells you all of your symptoms and then leaves nothing but a bill for his services. What would you think of a doctor like that, Lee. Here he comes into your sick room. He looks at your tongue and shakes his head. He tells you that your feet ache. He tells you that your skin feels dry. It begins right away to shrivel. He tells you that your eyelids are droopy. At that you can scarcely prop them open over your bulging orbs. He says that you have shooting pains in your scalp. And then the overhead begins something awful. With a terrible struggle you rise to your elbow and seize the physician by his long and venerable beard. "Quick, Doc," you gasp with rattling throat, "the remedy! What shall I do?" And then he loosens your weakening grasp, arises shakes his head, mutters simply "Overhead, overhead." He is gone. Naught is left except an echo of rustling in the corner where some back numbers of the Bryan Eagle are. That, too, seems to say, "Overhead, overhead!" And so the patient dies. How about it, Lee; what's the remedy? And if you haven't any, wouldn't it go pleasanter to go a bit easier on the symptoms?—State Press Joe J. Taylor in Dallas-Galveston News.

And now it is potatoes, Judd Mortimer Lewis in the Houston Chronicle says: "According to figures given by a commission merchant at Tuesday's K. of C. luncheon, on a hundred pounds of potatoes selling at $1.55, the freight is $1.10, icing 23 cents, sacking 10 cents, brokerage 3 cents, while irrigation and loading charges are approximately 7 cents. Making a total of $1.53. Leaving the grower 2 cents per hundred for producing the spuds and putting them on the cars. The back-to-the-farm movement will never be made popular while such figures prevail."

While the grower received 2 cents for the potatoes the bushel sold to the consumer for $4.50 per bushel. In the ultimate serving these potatoes cost the ultimate consumer fully $75 per bushel and the tips for serving amount to $25 per bushel. For this $100 the man who furnished the seed, the land, the labor and marketed them gets 2 cents. Why the waiter who served the potatoes would refuse 2 cents as a tip on the single potato of the 100 pounds. Yes, we have a remedy, Joe, but you are so miserably bent and prejudiced that

KILLING OF YOUNG QUAIL BRAZOS COUNTY IS REPORT

Sheriff Morehead States That Officers and Game Wardens Want the Aid of Citizens in Enforcing the Game Laws to Stop the Slaughter of Young Quail Before December 1.

Sheriff L. E. Morehead has been notified by a number of citizens of Brazos county that hunters are slaughtering young quails and picking them and leaving the feathers along the roads and bringing the picked birds to town in their hunting bags. The dove open season went into effect on September 1st and hunters are not satisfied with killing the little doves in their pinfeathers but they kill small quail in violation of the game laws. The quail season will not be open until December 1, 1922. Farmers have complained to Sheriff Morehead about this violation of the law and he states that a number of game wardens have been designated to report these violations. Not only that every citizen is authorized to report violations of the game laws to the sheriff's department and every citizen is asked to file these complaints with the authorities. In fact, Sheriff Morehead states that he has some evidence of some specific violations of the law and may get enough in a day or two to make some arrests. In fact the laws governing the killing of doves should be amended until November at least, but there is no excuse in violating the quail law which does not take effect until December, and the quail law should and will be protected. Sheriff Morehead said: "Please warn all violators that they will be prosecuted under the game laws for violations."

you would refuse it. You would reject it and fly into technicalities. You are not in a condition to be dealt with. When a person is fleeing after a leader of hijackers you can agree on punishment until he is captured and in the right frame of mind. You have not been captured (or converted) yet. That is the reason, Joe, we fail to give you the remedy. You are too militant. You are too belligerent. Joe. You are in a physical and physiological condition to reject a remedy. You yet believe a farmer should sell his tomatoes at 10 cents per crate and then the ultimate consumer should pay $90. You need a shower of fire and brimstone about you to purify your thoughts and your mind. Joe, you are on the high road to destruction. You are attempting to do some and Nenevah way. They paid the people on hillsides leading up to Mt. Vesuvius three cents a bushel for their grapes and sold the wine for those grapes for $300. It was pitiful to see Rome perish and Pompeii and Herculaneum remain buried under molten lava for many centuries. They were not ready, Joe, for the remedy and neither are you. You are a four-flusher and a brilliant writer and an idealist of the purest ray severe. Whenever you are prepared, Joe, to take the medicine we have the remedy. The wise physician never leaves his medicine and goes away unless he has good reason to believe his patient will take it faithfully. By your arrogance Joe, we are constrained to believe you are not serious enough to accept the remedy. You are too prosperous and until you begin to see the Russian situation at your own door you will not reform. When you have to take a wheelbarrow to carry your paper money to the market place to purchase a small fish you will perhaps, Joe—perhaps, become sane and accept the remedy. Perhaps, Perhaps.

BRAZOS COUNTY BOYS AND GIRLS CLUB DEPT

Club Notes and Farm News by County Agent C. L. Beason.

"Dutch" Hohn, County Agent, Grimes County, has already started out to bring 100 club boys to the A. and M. College next summer. In order to provide for the boys who may not have the ready cash, as many farm boys have not at that time of year, Mr. Hohn plans to round up a lot of tents to be used for the accommodation of the club boys. These boys can bring along a little hunk of bacon, a few loaves of bread, a pinch of salt, a jar of preserves, etc., and stay a whole week at the A. and M. College, attend lectures, observe the livestock, poultry, farms, crops and have a bushel of fun at the least possible cost. Such an event should stimulate any Grimes county club boy, and from what we have observed of these Grimes county people, they will lend encouragement toward the end that the undertaking shall be a success. Really we have a bit peeved at the success of the "Brazos County Day" and is now merely trying to hand us Grimes "Willows" for Brazos "laurels." All right "Dutch," we shall pass out the word to Steep Hollow, Harvey, Kurten, Edge, Tabor, Smetana, Mudville, Welborn, Millican, and etc. and all them of your plans. You must remember that these communities may decree that "you shall not pass," during the World War Steep Hollow was the first to go on a wheatless ration, but Grimes county took the credit. Hence you may expect no quarters from Steep Hollow.

Preparations for turnip patches is the order of the day since the rain. Good work, but without more rain the hot sun may kill turnips coming p at this time. However the preparation will be fine for later sowing should it have to be made. With an abundance of turnips and greens, good fat pork, plenty of fall sown oats, rye, etc. for winter grazing, and cover crop, a fat possum occasionally we ought to pass the winter in fairly good shape and approach the spring with a smile and buoyant in the hope of greater achievements next year. We should be thankful for the good portion that is ours.

Oats, rye or barley sown this month will furnish fine grazing for the livestock during the winter and spring and at the same time prevent the soil from washing away so rapidly. Soil erosion must be checked, or else our hill lands will soon be unprofitable to cultivate. In many instances such is already the case. Further neglect will prove disastrous to the business of farming.

Miss Myrtle Murray, Poultry Specialist Extension Service, announces that "in addition to the regular prizes offered by the State Fair Association this year, there will be a special prize of $25 in cash offered to the county winning the greatest number of ribbons; $15 to the county winning the second greatest number of ribbons. There will also be 100 settings of eggs given by the best poultry breeders in Texas to the Poultry Club Members making exhibits but not winning prizes in the regular exhibit." Brazos county ought to win these prizes. All club members expecting to send poultry to the State

AUGUST GINNING OF COTTON VERY HEAVY

Special Agent Henry Crenshaw reports that up to September 1, 1922, 4,169 bales of cotton has been ginned in Brazos county as compared with 684 bales the same date in 1921. Since this report there have been twelve ginning days in September and the cotton crop is estimated at 12,500 bales for the county and with dry weather the crop will be gatherer and ginned by October 1st. The crop is now being gathered at a rapid rate.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Neeley and children and Mrs. Edgar Jones will leave early Thursday morning in the Neeley car for Iola, where they will visit relatives and friends for several days.

Fair should notify the County, or some Demonstration Agent right way, as entries must be made by September 25.

The trip to Franklin Tuesday by Dr. F. C. Bolton, Dean of Engineering, A. and M. College, W. B. Lamsam, Assistant Director, Extension Service, and County Agent C. L. Beason revealed the fact that County Agent R. B. Ewing is using radio-hone to good advantage both to the business men of Franklin and to the farmers of Robertson county. Mr. Ewing receives the cotton market news three times a day and far in advance of the regular market quotations. This service seems to be serving a double purpose; first, it furnishes ready information to the business men; second, it seems to establish confidence among the farmers who may thus be informed by disinterested party as to market quotations, etc. The Franklin Chamber of Commerce is assisting County Agent in maintaining the service.

From all signs and reports there are propagandists in many parts of the country who are seeking to array class against class, producer against consumer, country against town, etc. The "trick" is easy, especially with the farmer, who too many times feels that his business has not received an equitable share of the profits accorded other, and less important, industries. It may be the whole scheme of business is not adjusted as it should be, in fact the evidence sustains the doubt, but why seek to destroy the leaky boat and drown the row and leave us stranded on a lonely island with no life saver in sight? Stop the leak and perhaps he same bark may help land us in a port of safety. The enterprise should be helpful to another. Town and country are inter-dependent. If the scheme of things is such that one does not enjoy the success that may come to the other, correct it. By no means seek to arouse a spirit that would destroy or antagonize one industry against another. Look with suspicion on the man or set of men who would attempt it. . . . It is only another case of "A mule and forty cures of land."

Many farmers throughout the county are making good reports on the use of better seed, both corn and cotton. The County Agent is giving hearty cooperation to this move and desires to see the work carried a bit further wherein each farmer will have each at least a small breeding lot, and that each community will plant only one variety of cotton. Sam Cavitt, our fellow townsman, and a leading farmer in the Wheelock community, reports fine results from the planting of only one variety of cotton in his gin territory. It will be recalled that seed from the Cavitt gin sold readily on the market last spring for $75 a ton while other gin un seed were bringing only mill prices. Rock Prairie is making some progress toward establishing the plan of planting only one variety of cotton in that neighborhood. The step is to be commended. Those farmers have an opportunity of building up a great industry in that splendid section of the county.

APPLES NOW—POTATOES

Prof. L. L. Chappelle has just returned to Bryan from Bentonville, Ark., and other points in the fruit belt. He says that the farmers offered to sell him their immense apple crops for 50c per bushel. He was offered peaches for 25c per bushel and they were rotting in the fields. A bushel of peaches recently sold in Oklahoma for $1 and then sold two days later in Dallas for 40c per dozen, or $17.50 per bushel. These peaches or their were served in Dallas cafes at 40c each with a 15c tip—which is overhead. That makes them bring $80 with $30 in tips. We declare solemnly that the farmer should have some of this overhead, or he will have to go out of business. We are not ready to give you the remedy and are not "hollering," as you term it. You remind us of the fellow who drank bootleg whiskey at $60 per gallon and then wanted his salary raised. He said he got thirsty on the trip and had to tip the people along the road 25c for water. He said he must have more wages, or strike. You want everybody to quit eating peaches and cabbage, and perhaps it will come to that if the overhead is so heavy that they all rot in the fields. The physical facts are against you, and your astute argument by a high degree sounds fine on paper. It is "sounding brass and tinkling cymbal," and you know it, and we know you know it, and we know that you know we know you know it.—Bryan Daily Eagle.

And so it's apples now. A while ago it was cabbage. And all the time it's overhead. And when S. P. rises mildly during a lull in the vociferation and asks, "Well, what are you going to do about it?" up jumps Lee Rountree again and chants, "Joe, we're not going to give you the remedy." Well, then, if you aren't going to give the remedy to the public notwithstanding all this misery and ululation you have been emitting because of the sad state of the public, what are you going to sell it for? If you have a remedy and won't give it away and have a lick of trading blood in your skin crack down and name a price, and maybe S. P. can trade you a fine installment plan encyclopedia that he unwittingly bought during a description campaign of a young man who was anxious to make his college tuition. Surely you have a remedy, Lee, or else you are in a position of a doctor who comes in and tells you all of your symptoms and then leaves nothing but a bill for his services. What would you think of a doctor like that, Lee. Here he comes into your sick room. He looks at your tongue and shakes his head. He tells you that your feet ache. They do. He tells you that your skin feels dry. It begins right away to shrivel. He tells you that your eyelids are droopy. At that you can scarcely prop them open over your bulging orbs. He says that you have shooting pains in your scalp. And then the overhead begins something awful. With a terrible struggle you rise to your elbow and seize the physician by his long and venerable beard. "Quick, Doc," you gasp with rattling throat, "the remedy! What shall I do?" And then he loosens your weakening grasp, arises shakes his head, mutters simply "Overhead, overhead." He is gone. Naught is left except an echo of rustling in the corner where some back numbers of the Bryan Eagle are. That, too, seems to say, "Overhead, overhead!" And so the patient dies. How about it, Lee; what's the remedy? And if you haven't any, wouldn't it go pleasanter to go a bit easier on the symptoms?—State Press Joe J. Taylor in Dallas-Galveston News.

And now it is potatoes, Judd Mortimer Lewis in the Houston Chronicle says: "According to figures given by a commission merchant at Tuesday's K. of C. luncheon, on a hundred pounds of potatoes selling at $1.55, the freight is $1.10, icing 23 cents, sacking 10 cents, brokerage 3 cents, while irrigation and loading charges are approximately 7 cents. Making a total of $1.53. Leaving the grower 2 cents per hundred for producing the spuds and putting them on the cars. The back-to-the-farm movement will never be made popular while such figures prevail."

While the grower received 2 cents for the potatoes the bushel sold to the consumer for $4.50 per bushel. In the ultimate serving these potatoes cost the ultimate consumer fully $75 per bushel and the tips for serving amount to $25 per bushel. For this $100 the man who furnished the seed, the land, the labor and marketed them gets 2 cents. Why the waiter who served the potatoes would refuse 2 cents as a tip on the single potato of the 100 pounds. Yes, we have a remedy, Joe, but you are so and medicated that

KILLING OF YOUNG QUAIL BRAZOS COUNTY IS REPORT

Sheriff Morehead States That Officers and Game Wardens Want the Aid of Citizens In Enforcing the Game Laws to Stop the Slaughter of Young Quail Before December 1.

Sheriff L. E. Morehead has been notified by a number of citizens of Brazos county that hunters are slaughtering young quails and picking them and leaving the feathers along the roads and bringing the picked birds to town in their hunting bags. The dove open season went into effect on September 1st and hunters are not satisfied with killing the little doves in their pinfeathers but they kill small quail in violation of the game laws. The quail season will not be open until December 1, 1922. Farmers have complained to Sheriff Morehead about this violation of the law and he states that a number of game wardens have been designated to report these violations. Not only that every citizen is authorized to report violations of the game laws to the sheriff's department and every citizen is asked to file these complaints with the authorities. In fact, Sheriff Morehead states that he has some evidence of some specific violations of the law and may get enough in a day or two to make some arrests. In fact the laws governing the killing of doves should be amended until November at least, but there is no excuse in violating the quail law which does not take effect until December, and the young quail should and will be protected. Sheriff Morehead said: "Please warn all violators that they will be prosecuted under the game laws for violations."

You would refuse it. You would reject it and fly into technicalities. You are not in a condition to be dealt with. When a person is fleeing after a leader of hijackers you cant agree on punishment until he is captured and in the right frame of mind. You have not been captured (or converted) yet. That is the reason, Joe, we fail to give you the remedy. You are too militant. You are too belligerent. Joe. You are in a physical and physiological condition to reject a remedy. You yet believe a farmer should sell his tomatoes at 10 cents per crate and then the ultimate consumer should pay $90. You need a shower of fire and brimstone about you to purify your thoughts and your mind. Joe, you are on the high road to destruction. You are attempting to do some and Nenevah way. They paid the people on hillside leading up to Mt. Vesuvius three cents a bushel for their grapes and sold the wine for those grapes for $300. It was pitiful to see Rome perish and Pompeii and Herculaneum remain buried under molten lava for many centuries. They were not ready, Joe, for the remedy and neither are you. You are a four-flusher and a brilliant writer and an idealist of the purest ray severe. Whenever you are prepared, Joe, to take the medicine we have the remedy. The wise physician never leaves his medicine and goes away unless he has good reason to believe his patient will take it faithfully. By your arrogance Joe, we are constrained to believe you are not serious enough to accept the remedy. You are too prosperous and until you begin to see the Russian situation at your own door you will not reform. When you have to take a wheel-barrow to carry your paper money to the market place to purchase a small fish you will perhaps, Joe—perhaps, become sane and accept the remedy. Perhaps, Perhaps.

BRAZOS COUNTY BOYS AND GIRLS CLUB DEPT

Club Notes and Farm News by County Agent C. L. Beason.

"Dutch" Hohn, County Agent, Grimes County, has already started out to bring 100 club boys to the A. and M. College next summer. In order to provide for the boys who may not have the ready cash, as many farm boys have not at that time of year, Mr. Hohn plans to round up a lot of tents to be used for the accommodation of the club boys. These boys can bring along a little hunk of bacon, a few loaves of bread, a pinch of salt, a jar of preserves, etc., and stay a whole week at the A. and M. College, attend lectures, observe the livestock, poultry, farms, crops and have a bushel of fun at the least possible cost. Such an event should stimulate any Grimes county club boy, and from what we have observed of these Grimes county people, they will lend encouragement toward the end that the undertaking shall be a success. Really we have a notion that County Agent Hohn was a bit peeved at the success of the "Brazos County Day" and is now merely trying to hand us Grimes "Willows" for Brazos "laurels." All right "Dutch," we shall pass out the word to Steep Hollow, Harvey, Kurten, Edge, Tabor, Smetana, Mudville, Welborn, Millican, and etc. and all them of your plans. You must remember that these communities may decree that "you shall not pass." During the World War Steep Hollow was the first to go on a wheatless ration, but Grimes county took the credit. Hence you may expect no quarters from Steep Hollow.

Preparations for turnip patches is the order of the day since the rain. Good work, but without more rain he hot sun may kill turnips coming p at this time. However the preparation will be fine for later sowing should it have to be made. With an abundance of turnips and greens, good fat pork, plenty of fall sown oats, rye, etc., for winter grazing, and cover crop, a fat possum occasionally we ought to pass the winter in fairly good shape and approach the spring with a smile and buoyant in the hope of greater achievements next year. We should be thankful for he good portion that is ours.

Oats, rye or barley sown this month will furnish fine grazing for the livestock during the winter and spring and at the same time prevent the soil from washing away so rapidly. Soil erosion must be checked, or else our hill lands will soon be unprofitable to cultivate. In many instances such is already the case. Further neglect will prove disastrous to the business of farming.

Miss Myrtle Murray, Poultry Specialist Extension Service, announces that in addition to the regular prizes offered by the State Fair Association this year, there will be a special prize of $25 in cash offered to the county winning the greatest number of ribbons; $15 to the county winning the second greatest number of ribbons. There will also be 100 setplings of eggs given by the Poultry Club Members making exhibits but not winning prizes in the regular exhibit. Brazos county ought to win these prizes. All club members expecting to send poultry to the State

UNIQUE MIDNIGHT FISH FRY GIVEN BY MILLICAN FISHERMEN

Mr. J. D. Battle of Millican, was here Saturday and called on the Eagle. Mr. Battle gives the details of quite a happy affair that occurred at Millican the other evening. A party of fishermen organized and went to the Navasot River on a fishing excursion, among whom were the following: H. B. Crawford, J. Walter Smith, C. E. Sealey, J. E. Corey, Byrd Corey, Ed. Dowling, R. W. Baker, W. G. Grada, S. H. Smith, J. T. Sawyer, W. McCulloch, L. B. Black Chas Loops, Sr. and Charles Loops of Houston, R. A. Pato and Will Sangster of Navasota, M. Wood and family, M. E. Fanning and family of Lubbock. Mr. Battle states that about 11 o'clock that night, the fishing party returned to Millican from the river with about 200 pounds of fish. The people were assembled on the Main street of Millican, many of them having retired for the night, and a real fish fry was provided and a great feast served which was greatly enjoyed by the people of Millican. This fish fry was unique in the history of the town and the Eagle believes that when County Agent Beason, Secretary Eberstadt, Rev. Vinton and Prof. Kraft read this story they will be afraid to go to sleep for fear they will miss another fish fry. Col. Battle in speaking of the affair said while it was out of the ordinary he hoped to see it repeated again soon and promised the editor of the Eagle a mid-night hurry call. And he will not call in vain.

It's a joyous treat to sit down to a bowl of Kellogg's Corn Flakes

You'll agree that you never ate such delicious, such satisfying cereal as Kellogg's Corn Flakes! Those big, sunny-brown "sweet-hearts-of-the-corn" are so fascinating in flavor and so crispy and crunchy that you don't wonder the children are thrilled to eat them!

Compare Kellogg's with imitations to realize their quality, their appetizing appeal, their wonder-crispness! Unlike imitations, Kellogg's are never tough or leathery or hard to eat! Each heaping spoonful of Kellogg's is even more joyous than the last—there is no end to the happiness that is yours eating Kellogg's Corn Flakes!

ASK FOR KELLOGG'S! Be sure that you get Kellogg's—the delicious Corn Flakes in the RED and GREEN package that bears the signature of W. K. Kellogg, the originator of Toasted Corn Flakes. NONE ARE GENUINE WITHOUT IT!
